WORKINGMEN'S MEETING .-- A meeting of the so-called workingmen's party was held at Hicks's Store, across the canal, last night. The meeting was presided over by Richard Parker, the colored county constable. Speeches were made by J. Willard Greene and John Calhoun Motter, after which calls were made for R. B. Hopkins, colored.

Mr. Hopkins said he was there as president of the colored conservative club. He attacked the course of the so called workingmen's organ in characterising the colored people as cattle. This statement was denied by J. Williard Greene, the editor of that paper who called Mr. Hopkins a liar, but afterwards apologized, saying that the language of jected to was that of a local reporter employed on the paper. Mr. Hopkias then proceeded, at length, toadyo cate the claims of Messra. Mushbach and Hun ter, the conservative nominees for the House of Delegates. It was evident that a part, at least, of the meeting was in sympathy with him, and he expressed his gratification that the colored people were not all on one side, as formerly, and were sensible enough to look out for their
